

One Cooperative. Many Lives. One Goal.

East Georgia Health Cooperative
www.eghealthcoop.org
(478) 553-2497

Educational Services

Coding Classes

Classes are scheduled throughout the year for physicians offices and hospitals. Call Christy for times and dates.

Foundation 101

Introduction to foundations and starting your own. To be held in April, call to reserve a place.

Marketing Services

How effective are your marketing efforts?

Free assessment provided to members on a first come first serve basis.

Bulletin Boards

Materials available upon request to members.

For additional information call:

478 553 2497

Tara Cramer

Executive Director

Christy Shurling

Community Educator

Dutch Anderson

Admin. Assist.

Enhancing the access,
scope and viability of healthcare services in East Central Georgia.

EGHCoop has been busy trying to settle in at the new address on Highway 15 in Sandersville and with the addition of a Community Educator and an intern from Georgia College and State University, we are a flutter of activity. The Critical Conditions, (Advanced Directive) services have been well received and the Hazardous Waste Disposal Program is running smoothly supplying our members with multiple cost savings. Our coding classes have begun and will continue throughout the year.

Club Scrub, our afterschool program for 8th graders is increasing awareness of health-related professions through hands-on activities. To be considered for the program, students submitted essays and a select forty-five students (15 for each hospital) were chosen by EGHCoop to participate. The current class of students are working and learning side-by-side with hospital employees representing a variety of healthcare disciplines and meet monthly at their local hospital throughout the school year.

Our bulletin board project is active and the first ones have been distributed. We are also submitting monthly news articles to local papers in an attempt to keep our communities healthy and knowledgeable. If you miss any of the articles, reprints will be on our website.

We are extremely proud of our new website and new educational offerings so be sure and check those out.

Tara

